

The Nebraska Child Care Referral Network

Help for Nebraska's Working Parents

The ongoing COVID-19 emergency has put parents and child care providers alike under tremendous strain. Parents—especially those who must still report to work outside their homes—need access to quality child care services where they know their children will be looked after by licensed, experienced caregivers and educators.

Here is a resource that can help.

How to Search on the Website

The Nebraska Child Care Referral Network is a newly launched website that can help working parents—particularly those working in critical jobs related to healthcare, food service, and similar roles—to find child care in their area for children from birth to age 12. The website allows parents to use their computer, tablet or smartphone to search for providers based on a range of criteria including:

- Type of child care environment (in home or center)
- Does/does not accept subsidy
- Type of child care license
- Accepts children with special needs/disability
- Location (zip code or city)
- Ages of children needing care
- Step Up to Quality participation
- Spanish-speaking staff

Nebraska Child Care Referral Network

The purpose of the Nebraska Child Care Referral Network is to enable families to locate licensed child care providers in communities across the state. Providers include both family care and center-based care and are available for children from birth through age 12.... Show more
